

What's the Deal with that Desk?

By Sgt. Rebecca Walker
65th Press Camp HQ
24 August 2001

While many people notice the desk outside the dining facility on Camp Walker, its purpose and origin remain a mystery. We polled some sections on Camp Walker and here's what they had to say:

G-2

"I don't know anything about a desk. And YOU don't know anything about a desk, do you hear me? There are eyes and ears everywhere. That desk never happened. And never will happen. NEVER."

Supply

"Desk? Oh, we're all out of desks. We'll be getting in a shipment soon though and if you are willing to sign for it, I'll be happy to get you one as soon as I take care of everyone else on the waiting list."

Chaplain's Office

"Nobody knows where the desk comes from or what it means in our lives. It's our duty as members of the flock to believe in our hearts that the desk has a purpose and to love the desk, without knowing why. The desk is a precious gift."

Morale Welfare and Recreation

"The desk is just one of the many recreational amenities that we have provided for the soldiers here in Daegu. You can sit on the desk, you can stand on the desk, you can lay under the desk. However, the desk is not authorized for use during duty hours. We can't let the fun get out of hand, I'm sure you understand."

Dining Facility Manager

"That's not a desk, that's our new outdoor dining patio. We had to start small. We had other desks, but they had to be used for the stew. Meat shortage."

Public Affairs Office

"That desk is our attempt to use humor to reach the readership of the paper and to fill column inches. It's also a very good photo opportunity."